

What People Are Saying About Quilt Escape...

Hi!

I really enjoyed QuiltEscape last year and am looking forward to this coming November. I was wondering when the information for this year's weekend will be available-besides my mom coming again, I am hoping a couple other family members/friends will come as well.

*Thanks,

Dear Cindy and Drew,

I just wanted to say thank you for giving me a wonderful experience when I attended QuiltEscape 2002. What were the odds of my children picking a getaway weekend for me off the internet that was more than they anticipated for me? Thank you both for also being so flexible with the whole idea of a gift certificate. I have mad some wonderful new friends and I hope to come back again and again and again. You both obviously love doing what you do and it shows.

*Sincerely,

Cindy & Drew,

As a kid, summer camp was the highlight of my life, hay rides, swimming, chatting and laughing with friends both old and new have left me with lasting loving memories. QuiltEscape has opened that door to the past for me again. I look forward each year to seeing old friends and making new ones as well. Unlike summer camp the food is wonderful and the staff always friendly, and there are no lights out.

Hi Drew,

How are you and Cindy doing? We have seen Cindy on T.V. a few times!! It was great!! How is QuiltEscape 2003 coming? I keep checking each week to see if it is on the web site yet! We are hoping for a cabin again this year....we can't wait!

Sew long for now, one of the cabin girls.

Hi Friends!!

Linda and I just returned from an absolutely WONDERFUL weekend at the Shawnee Quilt Escape. This was the 7th year for this even and honestly, it just gets better and better! The timing always seems perfect...this year especially sew. The weather and the scenery was truly indescribable. We were at Shawnee State Park in the rolling wooded hills of southern Ohio. The view from the lodge was genuinely awesome. The accomodations were wonderful, the food was delicious, the even was well-planned and well-organized and Drew and Cindy Casciato truly made us feel that they were just glad we were there. Best-of-all.....the company of the other quilters was enriching and uplifting. When I was growing up, I never realized grown women were allowed to have sew much fun! One of the women told me her husband considers this her vacation. Honestly, I consider it more like a retreat. When we go to these event, the participating women really are "allowed" to just be themselves. The "teen-agers" com back out to play. Unless you have attended a quilting get-away, you probably have NO idea what I am talking about, but it is really one of the most rejuvenating events you can imagine...we feed our bodies, our friendships, our creativity, our funny-bones, and our souls. When we return to reality it all looks a bit less "overwhelming". Perspectives have shifted a bit and we know we are going to be "okay" unitl our next "quilting fix". If you ever have an opportunity to participate in a get-away weekend such as this, do yourself (and your loved-ones!) a favor and GO! You just can't imagine the difference it can make!
